Judge Steps Aside In Hilty Case; Hearing Date Set

Common Pleas Judge John P. Case disqualified himself Friday from presiding over a $3,564 recovery suit filed against County Superintendent W. J. Hilty, but he set Thursday, Oct. 25, at 9:30 a. m. for a final hearing on a demurrer filed by the defendant.

The suit is based on a state examiner's report.

In a formal disqualification entry Judge Case said, in part: "...it is reasonable to believe that the time of its (the action against Hilty) filing might possibly have been selected and designed to adversely affect certain efforts and proposals to be voted upon, on Nov. 6, 1956, concerning the public schools within Fayette County."

(The judge obviously was referring to the Miami Trace bond issue.)

The action of the court means that Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt will assign a judge from outside the county to hear the demurrer.

side the county to hear the demurrer.

Judge Case pointed out in the entry that his reasons for disqualifying himself were set forth in an order in another action Sept. 5 (the Bookwalter school injunction case). At that time the judge stepped aside on four grounds—a motion that certain persons interested in the case "believe the judge of this court to be biased and prejudiced with respect to the issues involved."

IN HIS ENTRY, Judge Case said:

"The court, coming now to consider the oral application of Butler, Addison and Werum, attorneys of record for defendant, W. J. Hilty, for hearing at the earliest possible date upon defendant's demurrer filed herein on Oct. 11, 1956, finds:

"1. That the within action, instituted by the petition which is demurred to by defendant, might possibly be correlated with and related to a certain controversy involving the administration and operation of public schools within Fayette County, Ohio;

"2. That, as a result of said controversy, there were two lawsuits filed and pending in the courts of this county prior to the filing of the petition herein; one of which was for a declaratory judgment and is now pending in the Probate Court; and one of which was for temporary and permanent injunctive relief and is still pending in the Common Pleas Court of Fayette County although the temporary injunction was denied and hearing upon the permanent injunction assigned for September 24, 1956, has not been consummated;

"3. That such failure to promptly pursue the permanent injunctive relief so sought might reasonably be considered as tending to show and establish either a lack of good faith on the part of the proponents thereof or a designed effort on their part to discredit, harass or otherwise indirectly adversely affect certain efforts and proposals to be voted upon on Nov. 6, 1956, concerning the public schools within Fayette County, Ohio;

"4. That, even though the within petition may have been filed in good faith, it is reasonable to believe that the time of its filing might possibly have been selected and designed to adversely affect certain efforts and proposals to be voted upon, on Nov. 6, 1956, concerning the public schools within Fayette County, Ohio;

"5. That, although the dedicated purpose of our courts and legal procedure is to administer even-handed justice and to protect and preserve those rights to which the litigants are entitled under the law, the court must not close its eyes to the reasonable possibility by which a prolonged legal proceeding might be used as a sword rather than a shield, and through which a litigant or others favorable to such litigation might obtain, directly or indirectly, an undue and unjust advantage and thereby unjustly affect a matter of great public interest;

"6. That a prompt and expeditious hearing upon defendant's demurrer to the within petition appears to be reasonable and just, in view of the facts and circumstances surrounding other pending litigation and the controversy involving the public schools within Fayette County; and

"7. That, for the reasons hereinabove set forth, the court should schedule and assign a final hearing (Please Turn to Page Twenty)

New Violence Erupts in Phone Strike

Company and Police Reports Differ Widely On Portsmouth Affair

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., tied up in a lengthy and violence-marked strike, said a crowd of "about 500 persons" demonstrated against company installations in this southern Ohio city Thursday night. The company claimed that six trucks were burned.

Police Chief Hugh Rudity said one company truck was burned and windows were broken in a two-story brick building housing the company's automatic exchange in Portsmouth.

"I was called out about midnight," Rudity said. "Williams (Clare E. Williams, president of Ohio Consolidated) called me from Marion, but by the time I got out there it was pretty well cleared up."

Rudity said he was unable to confirm the number of demonstrators, adding that "the company always exaggerates those things." One company official called the demonstrations a "full scale riot." The striking Communications Workers of America has consistently denied responsibility for any violence in the strike.

A Portsmouth Times survey turned up three damaged trucks and a private car with the interior burned out.

At about the time the demonstration was at its height in Portsmouth, several Ohio Consolidated cables were slashed some 80 miles to the north in Fairfield County. The incidents affected the communities of Pleasantville (which was completely cut off), Millersport and Thurston. Repair crews were sent to the scene.

Authorities said it was the first "real incident" in the area since the strike started.

FBI Grabs Embezzler in Hodge Bank

CHICAGO (AP)—FBI agents uncovered an alleged embezzlement in the Bank of Elmwood Park Thursday night, hours after a day-long senate inquiry into financial maneuvers behind its organization.

The bank has been linked indirectly with the scandal involving Orville E. Hodge, Republican state auditor who was ousted and imprisoned for making off with $1½ million in state funds.

As auditor, Hodge closed the old First State Bank of Elmwood Park and emerged later as a secret, principal stockholder in the Bank of Elmwood Park, its successor.

Dwight H. Green, former Republican governor of Illinois, was elected chairman of the board of the new bank. He spent Thursday on the witness stand retracing the history of the bank, suppliers of its capital and its successful bid for big deposits of state funds.

The FBI said its agents had seized the head teller of the bank on a charge of embezzling $26,600 of the institution's funds. He was identified as Chester Joseph Biegalski, 46, head teller at the bank since it was reorganized after being closed by then - State Auditor Hodge in 1953.

Donald Hostetter, special agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, said Biegalski told authorities he embezzled the money over the last three years.

BLACK DAMP KILLS MINERS

Lausche: Country 1st, Party 2nd; Bender: I'm Good for Common Man

COLUMBUS (AP)—Republican Sen. George H. Bender, seeking reelection Nov. 6, and his Democratic opponent, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, engaged in their first face-to-face verbal exchange of the campaign here Thursday.

Among the colorful quotations were these:

Lausche: "I am a Democrat second and an American first."

Bender: "My record is good for the common man."

The clash came at what was billed as a "non-political" luncheon meeting of the Thursday Club at the Spring Street YMCA. The club, a group of Negro business and professional men, had invited Lausche to address the luncheon. Bender came at the request of a club member.

Bender told the luncheon he was campaigning on his record of 40 years in public life, and said, "I think you will find that my record is good for the common man."

"We have never had it so good as we have under Eisenhower," Bender went on. "During almost four years, you have seen things happen. We can go on any public conveyance in Washington. To me, every man is equal."

Bender asserted that he was not a part-time Republican. He was referring to a Lausche statement that if elected senator he might vote under certain circumstances with Republicans to organize the Senate.

It was in this light that the governor reiterated that "I am a Democrat second and an American first. I will never hesitate to cross party lines when I believe it will serve my country best."

Lausche, as the final speaker, spoke for 20 minutes, four more than Bender. Referring to the senator, Lausche observed that "he has made the longest guest speech that I have ever heard."

"Look into the departments of state. Wherever you go, you will find a fair share of Negroes. Two of 14 on my office staff are Negroes," the governor said.

Raising his voice, Lausche turned toward Bender at the speaker's table and said:

"I take a second seat to no one, and in fairness, George, let us remember that the Democrats did something for the Negro people."

"George, you can shout and roar and bellow louder than any man I know."

Bender interrupted to say, "You are doing pretty well yourself."

At one point, Lausche referred to an announced half-million-dollar goal set by the Ohio Republican Senatorial Finance Committee. There is no "$500,000 in my coffers," he said. "There is $7,000, and none from real estate operators."

"They gave none to me," Bender interrupted again.

Lausche said Bender was "conveniently absent" when the Senate voted on the recent housing bill. Bender replied he had supported housing measures, to which Lausche answered: "You didn't vote on the last issue and you know you didn't vote."

Polls Showing Ike in Lead

Some Indicate Margin Smaller than in 1952

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS President Eisenhower is leading Adlai Stevenson in a wide variety of presidential polls, but often by a smaller margin than in 1952.

A compilation of polls shows that to be the general trend whether in nationwide samplings by professional public opinion experts or in regional straw polls. There are some exceptions to the trend.

In Vanderburgh County in Indiana, Eisenhower was reported polling 63.2 per cent compared with his actual vote of 58.5 per cent in the 1952 election.

But a poll as of Sept. 18 among farm people only by the Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead, a weekly farm magazine, showed the Stevenson - Kefauver ticket leading the Eisenhower - Nixon slate 43 per cent to 36 per cent, with 22 per cent undecided.

This was an overturn from September 1952, when the Wallace poll showed 53 per cent of the farm people favoring Eisenhower to 25 per cent for Stevenson, with 22 per cent undecided.

HOW RIGHT the pollsters are cannot be known until the Nov. 6 election returns are in.

The Eisenhower - Nixon ticket polled 55.4 per cent of the major party vote in the 1952 election.

The most recent Gallup poll, published Wednesday, held that as of Oct. 1 Eisenhower was leading Stevenson 52 to 40 per cent, with 8 per cent undecided.

On Sept. 21, four years ago, Gallup reported: Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent, and 5 per cent undecided.

Midwest polls include: The Minneapolis Tribune's "Minnesota Poll," conducted Sept. 19-25, gave Eisenhower-Nixon 49 per cent; refuse to say, 1 per cent; no opinion, 3 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The Des Moines Register's "Iowa Poll" in the last week of September gave Eisenhower 46 per cent; Stevenson 36 per cent; and 18 per cent undecided. A similar poll for the same week in 1952 gave Eisenhower 48 per cent; Stevenson 27 per cent, and undecided, 25 per cent.

After remarking that "I understand the President said that he has said his last word on testing H-bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said:

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country who have the only last word."

Stevenson left it crystal clear that he regards his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests as one of the strong Democratic issues of the campaign.

NLRB Overrules Union Objection

Armco Workers To Vote On Bargaining Agent

Acting on a petition filed in May of this year by employees of Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, over the objections of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), has ordered that an election be held at the Washington C. H. plant.

The labor board's order refuses to recognize the union's objection. The board's decision states that it has administratively determined that the employer (Armco) has fully complied with its obligation to bargain in good faith.

"There is, in our opinion, no longer any valid reason why the employees should be denied the right to exercise their franchise in a board-supervised election," the decision continued.

"As part of the investigation to ascertain representatives for the purposes of collective bargaining with the employer, an election by secret ballot shall be conducted as early as possible, but not later than 30 days from the date of this direction," the Labor Board decision stated.

THE ELECTION, which the National Labor Relations Board in Washington has now ordered, represents the culmination of a long series of hearings by the Labor Board and the courts.

It resulted from a previous election held here in 1952 in which the majority of the employees at the Armco Drainage & Metal Products plant voted against representation by the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

The results of that election were set aside by the National Labor Relations Board on the grounds that the employer had refused prior to the election to bargain with the union.

A. H. Hutton, manager of the Armco Drainage & Metal Products plant here, said that the board's decision means that the employees will again be given the opportunity to vote by secret ballot to determine whether or not they desire to be represented for the purposes of collective bargaining by the UAW (CIO).

"According to the board's order all production and maintenance employees of our plant will be entitled to vote. This also includes shop clerks, janitors and watchmen, but excludes all office employees, guards, professional employees and supervisors. To be eligible, however, any employee must have been in our employment during the first week of October, including those who were off sick, on vacation or on military leave," Hutton said.

Youthful Escapees Nabbed by Police

DOVER (AP)—Six juveniles who escaped Thursday from the detention home in Warren, were captured in Carrollton Thursday night and charged with breaking and entering a custard stand during their freedom.

Adlai Accuses Ike Of 'Deception'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, who accuses President Eisenhower of "deception," says that "we have had enough of inaction and self-advertising."

He contended that "when we lose ground abroad, we are assured that all is well."

"I don't think" the public likes "to be told by Mr. Dulles and President Eisenhower that American prestige has never been higher," when it is manifestly untrue," he declared.

Stevenson also said he would have more to say Monday about his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests.

After remarking that "I understand the President said that he has said his last word on testing H-bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said:

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country who have the only last word."

"NEXT MONDAY," he said, "I expect to say more on this subject."

That, his staff said, will be in a nationwide TV and radio address from either Chicago or his farm home at Libertyville, Ill.

Stevenson's staff contends he has won widespread support from religious and educational leaders since he suggested the country "find a way" to halt the testing of the powerful H-bombs.

Eisenhower said Thursday his administration has done everything humanly possible to bring the H-bomb threat under international control and use atomic power for peaceful purposes.

Thursday night, Stevenson told the Oakland rally: "I'll let them (the people) judge whether it is a 'theatrical gesture,' to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

This last remark brought a storm of applause.

2 Are Dead, 3 Others Felled

Suffocating Gas Hits In Athens County

NELSONVILLE (AP)—Two men died and three others were overcome by "black damp" today in a mine accident six miles south-east of here.

The accident took place at a strip mine which had been converted into an "auger" mine—one in which a hole is bored into the side of a hill by a giant brace and steel bit to bring out "low" coal which otherwise cannot be mined.

The mine is operated by the Wharton Auger Co. and is known as the Kimberly mine. It is near Glen Ebon in Athens County, on Ohio 691, four miles south of U. S. 33 and about 8 miles northwest of Athens.

Officials at the scene reported two men went into the 30-inch hole to check tools. They were hit by "black damp" or "choke damp," a non-explosive but suffocating gas found in mines and consisting mostly of carbon dioxide.

Paul Schorniak, about 45, of Buchtel, and Lawrence Newsom, about 35, of Murray City, were the miners killed.

ELDRIDGE HANNING, 35, of Oak Grove, was brought to Mount St. Mary Hospital here for emergency treatment when pulled from the hole. Also overcome, but revived at the scene were Thomas Riley, 33, of Nelsonville, and Bill Stephenson, 45, of Gloucester, both of whom entered the hole to rescue the other three men.

"I ran to the hole," Riley said, "tied a line about my waist and started into the hole. I just stuck my head in there and the next thing I knew I was out."

Riley was pulled out with the rope about his waist. Stephenson, right behind Riley, was knocked out by the "black damp" when he approached the hole.

Miners reported that Schorniak apparently crawled into the hole in the first place to unfurl some boring equipment. They believed that when Schorniak was overcome, Newsom climbed in to rescue him and was also overcome.

Hanning then followed the two men into the hole and was overcome, but it was his cry for help that brought Riley and Stephenson and other miners running to the scene. Both Schorniak and Newsom were dead when pulled from the hole.

Mine safety officials are on the scene making an investigation. A mine safety rescue unit stationed at Athens and other emergency vehicles were summoned.

Distress Calls Spurring Hope

Signals May Come From Downed Plane

LONDON (AP)—Radio distress signals coming from the Atlantic north of the Azores spurred hope today for survivors of a giant transport plane missing with 59 U. S. servicemen aboard.

The U. S. Air Force ordered an all-out aerial search for the source of the message, heard by at least five transatlantic airliners Thursday night and the Air Force Base at Lajes, in the Azores.

It was believed the string of SOS signals might be coming from portable transmitters on rubber life rafts carried by the missing C118 Liftmaster of the U. S. Military Air Transport Service.

The Air Force estimated the signals were coming from a point approximately 150 miles north of the Azores.

The transport vanished Wednesday night on a flight from the air base at Lakenheath, England, to the Azores, en route to the United States. Aboard were 50 Air Force men returning to their Lincoln, Neb., base and the transport's crew of nine Navy men.

THE POSITION from which it was estimated the SOS signals came was more than 800 miles beyond the missing plane's last position report. But an Air Force spokesman said the aircraft could have lost radio contact with the ocean control tower at Shannon Airport in Ireland and flown on toward its destination before going down.

Four Ohioans were aboard the craft. They were A3c Robert Lipina, 28, of Cleveland; A2c John DiSanto, 21, of Euclid; A2c Conrad Buehler, 20, of Waterville; and Lt. Comdr. Fred Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lowe of Delaware.

"I'm probably one of the few men around here who'd be happy if the people of Washington C. H. put me out of a job."

That's what Fire Chief George Hall said in connection with the Fire Prevention Week campaign he is carrying on jointly with the Fayette County Insurance Assn. Oct. 7-13.

Chief Hall would like to see no fire loss at all in Washington C. H. if possible.

"It would be possible," said the chief, "if everyone would practice fire safety every day, all day."

But Washington C. H. has a long way to go before it reaches perfection in this bracket. In 1955 the total fire loss was $14,672.40 on 101 calls in the city, according to figures compiled by the chief.

British-Egyptian Compromise Hinted in Suez Canal Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Both Egypt and Britain were reported unofficially today to have made conciliatory moves in the Suez Canal dispute.

The British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers held their fifth private meeting today on the canal crisis with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, president of the U. N. Security Council, said that 11-nation body would hold a private session on the canal controversy later today and perhaps a public session Saturday.

A usually well informed diplomat said that in the talks so far Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi had agreed Egypt would cooperate in some respects with the Suez Canal Users' Assn. (SCUA) set up by the second London Suez conference.

THE SAME diplomat, who asked not to be identified, said British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had dropped Britain's insistence on international operation of the canal and had agreed to Egyptian operation provided international safeguards were set up to guarantee freedom of navigation through the waterway, necessary improvements and reasonable tolls.

Another source claiming to be familiar with the British position said they were willing for Egypt to hire the canal pilots and collect the tolls provided SCUA made up the canal convoys and assigned the pilots to individual ships, and if the tolls were fixed in accordance with an international treaty Egypt would sign.

Of this report, a British spokesman would say only, "Bits of it are wrong, but I'm not going to tell you which bits."

Fawzi refused to discuss the reported change in Egypt's position but said he thought something would be accomplished. He said he would stay at the U. N. "as long as is necessary."

Ohio Traffic Toll Ahead of 1955

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio traffic in the first seven months this year killed 53 more persons than in the comparable period of 1955.

But the increase in deaths was roughly the same, percentage-wise, as the increase in the number of vehicle miles.

The state highway safety department reports that deaths by the end of July this year on Ohio highways stood at 1,068 against 1,015 at the end of July 1955. Vehicle miles traveled this year were estimated at 21 billion, an increase of 1½ billions over the first seven months of 1955. Of the deaths this year, 316 occurred in city traffic and 752 in rural areas.

State Educator Cites Classroom Shortage

W. D. Darling, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, told a gathering of 17 school superintendents from five counties here Thursday that 9,707 additional classrooms will have to be constructed in Ohio during the next five years to meet the needs of increasing enrollment.

This was brought out by Darling as he reviewed some of the highlights of the meeting of the State Board of Education in Columbus last Monday and Tuesday. The need for classrooms, he said, is shown in the report to the board by Robert Heller and Associates of Cleveland, a consulting and survey firm.

Almost 60 per cent of these new classrooms, he said, will be beyond the normal nine - month terms through the summer vacation.

These extended services are in such courses as home economics, vocational agriculture and auto mechanics.

In generalizing his answers, he said allowances were limited to classes and activities that are an extension of instruction that is a part of the regular school term curriculum.

The opinion was expressed by several at the meeting, during this question and answer period, that the legislation will be proposed at the next General Assembly to provide for the establishment of school districts without regard to county or municipal boundaries.

Darling said he thinks more power will be placed in the State Board of Education over matters of district consolidations.

THE SUPERINTENDENTS were here for the regular meeting of the District School Administrators Assn. In this district are Champaign, Clark, Fayette, Greene and Madison counties.

The next meeting is to be held in Springfield Nov. 8.

Some of the superintendents came early enough in the morning to go through the Washington C. H. High School; others came only in time for the meeting which followed luncheon at the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop at noon.

Judge Steps Aside In Hilty Case; Hearing Date Set

Common Pleas Judge John P. Case disqualified himself Friday from presiding over a $3,564 recovery suit filed against County Superintendent W. J. Hilty, but he set Thursday, Oct. 25, at 9:30 a. m. for a final hearing on a demurrer filed by the defendant.

The suit is based on a state examiner's report.

In a formal disqualification entry Judge Case said, in part: "...it is reasonable to believe that the time of its (the action against Hilty) filing might possibly have been selected and designed to adversely affect certain efforts and proposals to be voted upon, on Nov. 6, 1956, concerning the public schools within Fayette County."

(The judge obviously was referring to the Miami Trace bond issue.)

The action of the court means that Chief Justice Carl W. Yeagand will assign a judge from outside the county to hear the demurrer.

Judge Case pointed out in the entry that his reasons for disqualifying himself were set forth in an order in another action Sept. 5 (the Bookwalter school injunction case). At that time the jurist stepped aside on four grounds—a one among them that certain persons interested in the case "believe the judge of this court to be biased and prejudiced with respect to the issues involved."

"6. That a prompt and expeditious hearing upon defendant's demurrer to the within petition appears to be reasonable and justified under the facts and circumstances surrounding other pending litigation and the controversy involving the public schools within Fayette County; and

PORTSMOUTH (A)—Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., tied up in a lengthy and violence-marked strike, said a crowd of "about 500 persons" demonstrated against company installations in this southern Ohio city Thursday night. The company claimed that six trucks were burned.

Police Chief Hugh Rudity said one company truck was burned and windows were broken in a two-story brick building housing the company's automatic exchange in Portsmouth.

"I was called out about midnight," Rudity said. "Williams (Clare E. Williams, president of Ohio Consolidated) called me from Marion, but by the time I got out there it was pretty well cleared up."

Rudity said he was unable to confirm the number of demonstrators, adding that "the company always exaggerates those things."

One company official called the demonstrations a "full scale riot."

The striking Communications Workers of America has consistently denied responsibility for any violence in the strike.

A Portsmouth Times survey turned up three damaged trucks and a private car with the interior burned out.

At about the time the demonstration was at its height in Portsmouth, several Ohio Consolidated cables were slashed some 80 miles to the north in Fairfield County. The incidents affected the communities of Pleasantville (which was completely cut off), Millersport and Thurston. Repair crews were sent to the scene.

Authorities said it was the first "real incident" in the area since the strike started.

FBI Grabs Embezzler in Hodge Bank

CHICAGO (A)—FBI agents uncovered an alleged embezzlement in the Bank of Elmwood Park Thursday night, hours after a day-long senate inquiry into financial maneuvers behind its organization.

The bank has been linked indirectly with the scandal involving Orville E. Hodge, Republican state auditor who was ousted and imprisoned for making off with $1½ million in state funds.

As auditor, Hodge closed the old First State Bank of Elmwood Park and emerged later as a secret, principal stockholder in the Bank of Elmwood Park, its successor.

Dwight H. Green, former Republican governor of Illinois, was elected chairman of the board of the new bank. He spent Thursday on the witness stand retracing the history of the bank, suppliers of its capital and its successful bid for big deposits of state funds.

The FBI said its agents had seized the head teller of the bank on a charge of embezzling $26,600 of the institution's funds. He was identified as Chester Joseph Biegalski, 46, head teller at the bank since it was reorganized after being closed by then State Auditor Hodge in 1953.

Donald Hostetter, special agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, said Biegalski told authorities he embezzled the money over the last three years.

Ohio Traffic Toll Ahead of 1955

COLUMBUS (A)—Ohio traffic in the first seven months this year killed 53 more persons than in the comparable period of 1955.

But the increase in deaths was roughly the same, percentage-wise, as the increase in the number of vehicle miles.

The state highway safety department reports that deaths by the end of July this year on Ohio highways stood at 1,068 against 1,015 at the end of July 1955. Vehicle miles traveled this year were estimated at 21 billion, an increase of 1½ billions over the first seven months of 1955. Of the deaths this year, 316 occurred in city traffic and 752 in rural areas.

Miami Dean Named As 'Dad of Year'

OXFORD (A)—Dr. Carl W. Knox, dean of men at Miami University, today was named "Miami Dad of the Year" and will preside at the school's Dad's Day football game against Marshall Saturday.

Dr. Knox, a former University of Illinois football player, became Miami's first dean of men in 1952. He and Mrs. Knox have a 10-year-old son, Phil.

BLACK DAMP KILLS MINERS

Lausche: Country 1st, Party 2nd; Bender: I'm Good for Common Man

COLUMBUS (A)—Republican Sen. George H. Bender, seeking reelection Nov. 6, and his Democratic opponent, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, engaged in their first face-to-face verbal exchange of the campaign here Thursday.

Among the colorful quotations were these:

Lausche: "I am a Democrat second and an American first."

Bender: "My record is good for the common man."

The clash came at what was billed as a "non-political" luncheon meeting of the Thursday Club at the Spring Street YMCA. The club, a group of Negro business and professional men, had invited Lausche to address the luncheon. Bender came at the request of a club member.

Bender told the luncheon he was campaigning on his record of 40 years in public life, and said, "I think you will find that my record is good for the common man."

"We have never had it so good as we have under Eisenhower," Bender went on. "During almost four years, you have seen things happen. We can go on any public conveyance in Washington. To me, every man is equal."

Bender asserted that he was not a part-time Republican. He was referring to a Lausche statement that if elected senator he might vote under certain circumstances with Republicans to organize the Senate.

It was in this light that the governor reiterated that "I am a Democrat second and an American first. I will never hesitate to cross party lines when I believe it will serve my country best."

Lausche, as the final speaker, spoke for 20 minutes, four more than Bender. Referring to the senator, Lausche observed that "he has made the longest guest speech that I have ever heard."

"Look into the departments of state. Wherever you go, you will find a fair share of Negroes. Two of 14 on my office staff are Negroes," the governor said.

Raising his voice, Lausche turned toward Bender at the speaker's table and said:

"I take a second seat to no one, and in fairness, George, let us remember that the Democrats did something for the Negro people."

"George, you can shout and roar and bellow louder than any man I know."

Bender interrupted to say, "You are doing pretty well yourself."

At one point, Lausche referred to an announced half-million-dollar goal set by the Ohio Republican Senatorial Finance Committee. There is no "$500,000 in my coffers," he said. "There is $7,000, and none from real estate operators."

"They gave none to me," Bender interrupted again.

Lausche said Bender was "conveniently absent" when the Senate voted on the recent housing bill. Bender replied he had supported housing measures, to which Lausche answered: "You didn't vote on the last issue and you know you didn't vote."

The results of that election were set aside by the National Labor Relations Board on the grounds that the employer had refused prior to the election to bargain with the union.

A. H. Hutton, manager of the Armco Drainage & Metal Products plant here, said that the board's decision means that the employees will again be given the opportunity to vote by secret ballot to determine whether or not they desire to be represented for the purposes of collective bargaining by the UAW (CIO).

"According to the board's order all production and maintenance employees of our plant will be entitled to vote. This also includes shop clerks, janitors and watchmen, but excludes all office employees, guards, professional employees and supervisors. To be eligible, however, any employee must have been in our employment during the first week of October, including those who were off sick, on vacation or on military leave," Hutton said.

THE ELECTION, which the National Labor Relations Board in Washington has now ordered, represents the culmination of a long series of hearings by the Labor Board and the courts.

It resulted from a previous election held here in 1952 in which the majority of the employees at the Armco Drainage & Metal Products plant voted against representation.

HOW RIGHT the pollsters are cannot be known until the Nov. 6 election returns are in.

The Eisenhower-Nixon ticket polled 55.4 per cent of the major party vote in the 1952 election.

The most recent Gallup poll, published Wednesday, held that as of Oct. 1 Eisenhower was leading Stevenson 52 to 40 per cent, with 8 per cent undecided.

On Sept. 21, four years ago, Gallup reported: Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent, and 5 per cent undecided.

Midwest polls include:

The Minneapolis Tribune's "Minnesota Poll," conducted Sept. 19-25, gave Eisenhower-Nixon 49 per cent; refuse to say, 1 per cent; no opinion, 3 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The Des Moines Register's "Iowa Poll" in the last week of September gave Eisenhower 46 per cent; Stevenson 36 per cent; and 18 per cent undecided. A similar poll for the same week in 1952 gave Eisenhower 48 per cent; Stevenson 27 per cent, and undecided, 25 per cent.

Israel Jails U. S. Woman for Spying

JERUSALEM (A)—An American woman sentenced to a year in jail as a spy for Syria was transferred today to the women's prison in Ramleh, on Israel's coastal plane.

Mary Frances Hagan, 29, whose family lives in Huntington, W. Va., was found guilty on two counts on charges she spied for Syria: with which Israel officially is at war. She pleaded innocent.

"NEXT MONDAY," he said, "I expect to say more on this subject."

That, his staff said, will be in a nationwide TV and radio address from either Chicago or his farm home at Libertyville, Ill.

Stevenson's staff contends he has won widespread support from religious and educational leaders since he suggested the country "find a way" to halt the testing of the powerful H-bombs.

Eisenhower said Thursday his administration has done everything humanly possible to bring the H-bomb threat under international control and use atomic power for peaceful purposes.

Thursday night, Stevenson told the Oakland rally: "I'll let them (the people) judge whether it is a 'theatrical gesture' to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

This last remark brought a storm of applause.

NLRB Overrules Union Objection

Armco Workers To Vote On Bargaining Agent

Acting on a petition filed in May of this year by employees of Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, over the objections of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), has ordered that an election be held at the Washington C. H. plant.

The labor board's order refuses to recognize the union's objection. The board's decision states that it has administratively determined that the employer (Armco) has fully complied with its obligation to bargain in good faith.

"There is, in our opinion, no longer any valid reason why the employees should be denied the right to exercise their franchise in a board-supervised election," the decision continued.

"As part of the investigation to ascertain representatives for the purposes of collective bargaining with the employer, an election by secret ballot shall be conducted as early as possible, but not later than 30 days from the date of this direction," the Labor Board decision stated.

Adlai Accuses Ike Of 'Deception'

OAKLAND, Calif. (A)—Adlai E. Stevenson, who accuses President Eisenhower of "deception," says that "we have had enough of inaction and self-advertising."

He contended that "when we lose ground abroad, we are assured that all is well."

"I don't think" the public likes "to be told by Mr. Dulles and President Eisenhower that American prestige 'has never been higher,' when it is manifestly untrue," he declared.

Stevenson also said he would have more to say Monday about his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests.

After remarking that "I understand the President said that he has said his last word on testing H-bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said:

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country who have the only last word."

Stevenson left it crystal clear that he regards his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests as one of the strong Democratic issues of the campaign.

Stevenson's staff contends he has won widespread support from religious and educational leaders since he suggested the country "find a way" to halt the testing of the powerful H-bombs.

Eisenhower said Thursday his administration has done everything humanly possible to bring the H-bomb threat under international control and use atomic power for peaceful purposes.

Thursday night, Stevenson told the Oakland rally: "I'll let them (the people) judge whether it is a 'theatrical gesture' to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

This last remark brought a storm of applause.

needed by elementary schools.

Darling also told the superintendents that in order to receive state aid for building construction, a district would have to have a bonded indebtedness amounting to 9 per cent of the district's tax valuation.

(Since the Washington C. H. schools' bonded debt of $51,000 is only about three-tenths of one per cent of the district's 19-million-dollar tax valuation, the district would not be eligible for state aid, Sup. W. A. Smith said.)

SEVERAL QUESTIONS were put to Darling about regulations for calculating extra salary allowances (state aid) for extended services. They were concerned primarily with teaching services that extend beyond the normal nine-month terms through the summer vacation.

These extended services are in such courses as home economics, vocational agriculture and auto mechanics.

In generalizing his answers, he said allowances were limited to classes and activities that are an extension of instruction that is a part of the regular school term curriculum.

The opinion was expressed by several at the meeting, during this question and answer period, that the legislation will be proposed at the next General Assembly to provide for the establishment of school districts without regard to county or municipal boundaries.

Darling said he thinks more power will be placed in the State Board of Education over matters of district consolidations.

THE SUPERINTENDENTS were here for the regular meeting of the District School Administrators Assn. In this district are Champlain, Clark, Fayette, Greene and Madison counties.

The next meeting is to be held in Springfield Nov. 8.

Some of the superintendents came early enough in the morning to go through the Washington C. H. High School; others came only in time for the meeting which followed luncheon at the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop at noon.

2 Are Dead, 3 Others Felled

Suffocating Gas Hits In Athens County

NELSONVILLE (A)—Two men died and three others were overcome by "black damp" today in a mine accident six miles south-east of here.

The accident took place at a strip mine which had been converted into an "auger" mine—one in which a hole is bored into the side of a hill by a giant brace and steel bit to bring out "low" coal which otherwise cannot be mined.

The mine is operated by the Wharton Auger Co. and is known as the Kimberly mine. It is near Glen Ebon in Athens County, on Ohio 691, four miles south of U. S. 33 and about 8 miles northwest of Athens.

Officials at the scene reported two men went into the 30-inch hole to check tools. They were hit by "black damp" or "choke damp," a non-explosive but suffocating gas found in mines and consisting mostly of carbon dioxide.

Paul Schorniak, about 45, of Buchtel, and Lawrence Newsom, about 35, of Murray City, were the miners killed.

ELDRIDGE HANNING, 35, of Oak Grove, was brought to Mount St. Mary Hospital here for emergency when pulled from the hole. Also overcome, but revived at the scene were Thomas Riley, 33, of Nelsonville, and Bill Stephenson, 45, of Gouster, both of whom entered the hole to rescue the other three men.

"I ran to the hole," Riley said, "tied a line about my waist and started into the hole. I just stuck my head in there and the next thing I knew I was out."

Riley was pulled out with the rope about his waist. Stephenson, right behind Riley, was knocked out by the "black damp" when he approached the hole.

Miners reported that Schorniak apparently crawled into the hole in the first place to unhook some boring equipment. They believed that when Schorniak was overcome, Newsom climbed in to rescue him and was also overcome.

Hanning then followed the two men into the hole and was overcome, but it was his cry for help that brought Riley and Stephenson and other miners running to the scene. Both Schorniak and Newsom were dead when pulled from the hole.

Mine safety officials are on the scene making an investigation. A mine safety rescue unit stationed at Athens and other emergency vehicles were summoned.

COLUMBUS (A)—The Ohio Selective Service headquarters today announced a November induction call for 1,033 men.

The induction call for October was 995 and the total call for November of last year was 1,218. The new induction call by counties includes: Clinton 10, Fayette 4, Hocking none, Pickaway 3, Van Wert 3.

State Aide Quitting

COLUMBUS (A)—State Liquor Director William C. Bryant Thursday announced the resignation, effective Oct. 21, of Harry E. Shifflette as controller of the Department of Liquor Control.

Darling said he thinks more power will be placed in the State Board of Education over matters of district consolidations.

THE SUPERINTENDENTS were here for the regular meeting of the District School Administrators Assn. In this district are Champlain, Clark, Fayette, Greene and Madison counties.

The next meeting is to be held in Springfield Nov. 8.

Vice President Candidates Wooing Farmer

Nixon, Kefauver Speak At Corn-Picking Test, Assail Opponents

COLUMBUS, Nebr. (AP)—The two candidates for vice president, Republican Richard Nixon and Democrat Estes Kefauver, gave new pleas for farmer support here today.

The occasion was the National Mechanical Corn-Picking Contest. Each candidate was heard in separate addresses.

In his address, Nixon accused the Democrats of "a cruel hoax" to snare the farm vote. Kefauver, in his talk, declared that "three is no clearer record in existence than the record of the betrayal of the American farmer by Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"How many times does a man break faith with you and still retain your trust and confidence?" Kefauver demanded.

The Tennessee senator also assailed Nixon in his prepared speech, claiming that "he is not a friend of the American farmer."

Kefauver said, "I am glad that you farmers had a chance today to see and hear Vice President Nixon—he might be President one of these days if the Republicans stay in power."

BUT THE Tennessean, counted on by Democratic strategists as their chief weapon in the fight for the farm vote this year, levelled his heaviest attack directly at the President.

He said that Eisenhower now calls the Democratic farm program "unwise," "reckless," and "price-depressing."

But, said Kefauver, the President "sang a different tune" when he was a candidate in 1952.

"Again and again in the campaign in 1952, candidate Eisenhower pledged himself—and he pledged his party—to strong support of the great farming community," the senator said. "He broke these pledges and the Republican Party broke these pledges."

As for the vice-president, the Democratic nominee said that while Nixon was in the House and Senate "he voted again and again to cripple soil conservation and rural electrification."

The high rigid price support policies they advocate, Nixon said in his prepared talk, would slam a lid on what he termed "the upward trend in farm income."

To farmers, considered by both parties to be restive this election year, Nixon said:

"The get-rich - quick promises that our opponents have made are just as impossible to keep with the type of program they advocate as would be their promise to guarantee rain in the drought-stricken areas."

Nixon urged the farmers to put their faith in the Eisenhower administration program that includes flexible price supports, a soil bank plan under which farmers can qualify for benefits by taking some land out of production, and efforts to increase markets for farm products.

This program, Nixon said, "is working and will continue to work because it cuts right to the heart of the problem."

Overworked Medic Chided by Judge

CLEVELAND (AP)—A former railroad physician Thursday lost a $75,000 injury suit in which he claimed the railroad worked him too hard.

Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee ordered a jury to rule against the doctor and described the case as having the least merit of any he had heard in 18 years.

The judge also suggested that the law firm representing the doctor owed the court an apology for ever beginning the action. Dr. Norbert Kassner, 57, of suburban Lakewood, filed the suit against the Pennsylvania railroad.

Stiff Curfew Brings Quiet To Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—An uneasy quiet settled today over riot-torn Kowloon and surrounding villages. Authorities kept a tight curfew clamped on Hong Kong's mainland territory where two days of frenzied rioting and factional fighting left 44 dead.

The colony's British government also sealed Hong Kong's border with Communist China, presumably to prevent Red agents from slipping across to further inflame the atmosphere.

Acting Gov. E. B. Davis extended the curfew imposed Thursday until Saturday morning to give police a better chance to round up persons suspected of leading the riots.

Housewives in each of Kowloon's six curfew zones were allowed only two hours a day on the streets to buy provisions. Gurkha troops from Himalayan Nepal lined the streets as crowds rushed to the stores.

Except for those hours, Kowloon was almost a dead city. Its streets were deserted, and most restaurants and all movie houses closed their doors.

Eighty of the 165 persons arrested during the rioting were brought into court and charged with rioting and unlawful assembly in a heavily guarded courtroom. They were ordered held for hearing on Tuesday.

Several students and eight policemen were injured slightly. They want to survey the final two acres needed to permit expansion of the adjoining Tachikawa Air Base, made no progress.

Ohio Marine Testifies at Court-Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, of Norwalk, Ohio, testified here today, that Marine Cpl. Richard Bille of Erie, Pa., punched him in the stomach after he failed to call Bille "sir." Hamisfar was hospitalized next day for a hernia operation.

The strapping, 20-year-old Ohio farm boy took the stand at the opening of Bille's special court-martial on charges of mistreating a person subject to his orders.

Hamisfar's testimony was corroborated by three other recruits.

Hamisfar told the six-man court that his recruit platoon was drawing equipment when the incident occurred. He said Bille held up an item and asked whether the recruits had it. Hamisfar said he told Bille that he didn't.

Then, Hamisfar testified, Bille came up to him and demanded:

"Don't you know enough to say sir? I said, 'yes, sir.' Then he hit me in the stomach."

Bille, whose home is Erie, Pa., if found guilty faces a maximum punishment of a bad conduct discharge, confinement at hard labor up to six months and forfeiture of two-thirds of his pay and reduction to private.

Missouri Girl Likes Mom's No-School Plan

CENTERTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Bright-eyed Mary Schoenheit eagerly agrees with her mother's contention Mary shouldn't have to go to school.

"I don't like school," said the slender 7-year-old. "I think it's a bore. Whenever I think of it I want to cry. And my mother didn't tell me to say that either."

Raymond McDaniel, acting superintendent of Monticau County schools, said he would file charges in Magistrate's Court against Mrs. Mary L. Schoenheit unless Mary reports for classes today.

Mrs. Schoenheit, 46, and a former Illinois school teacher, has been tutoring Mary at home.

She calls schools "antiquated institutions," says they have an "inhuman passion for uniformity," turn children into "trained seals."

Both Mary and her mother are eager to go to court.

Mary takes violin lessons from her mother along with her other studies and she said she'd like to play for the judge.

Mrs. Schoenheit contends she is complying with Missouri law by giving Mary instruction equal to that in public schools.

McDaniel points out Mrs. Schoenheit has no Missouri teacher's certificate, consequently "does not qualify as an instructor capable of giving the child equal education at home."

Vice President Candidates Wooing Farmer

Nixon, Kefauver Speak
At Corn-Picking Test,
Assail Opponents

COLUMBUS, Nebr. (P)—The two candidates for vice president, Republican Richard Nixon and Democrat Estes Kefauver, gave new pleas for farmer support here today.

The occasion was the National Mechanical Corn-Picking Contest. Each candidate was heard in separate addresses.

In his address, Nixon accused the Democrats of "a cruel hoax" to snare the farm vote. Kefauver, in his talk, declared that "there is no clearer record in existence than the record of the betrayal of the American farmer by Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"How many times does a man break faith with you and still retain your trust and confidence?" Kefauver demanded.

The Tennessee senator also assailed Nixon in his prepared speech, claiming that "he is not a friend of the American farmer."

Kefauver said, "I am glad that you farmers had a chance today to see and hear Vice President Nixon—he might be President one of these days if the Republicans stay in power."

BUT THE Tennesseean, counted on by Democratic strategists as their chief weapon in the fight for the farm vote this year, levelled his heaviest attack directly at the President.

He said that Eisenhower now calls the Democratic farm program "unwise," "reckless," and "price-depressing."

But, said Kefauver, the President "sang a different tune" when he was a candidate in 1952.

"Again and again in the campaign in 1952, candidate Eisenhower pledged himself—and he pledged his party—to strong support of the great farming community," the senator said. "He broke these pledges and the Republican Party broke these pledges."

As for the vice-president, the Democratic nominee said that while Nixon was in the House and Senate "he voted again and again to cripple soil conservation and rural electrification."

The high rigid price support policies they advocate, Nixon said in his prepared talk, would slam a lid on what he termed "the up-war" trend in farm income.

To farmers, considered by both parties to be restive this election year, Nixon said:

"The get-rich - quick promises that our opponents have made are just as impossible to keep with the type of program they advocate as would be their promise to guarantee rain in the drought-stricken areas."

Nixon urged the farmers to put their faith in the Eisenhower administration program that includes flexible price supports, a soil bank plan under which farmers can qualify for benefits by taking some land out of production, and efforts to increase markets for farm products.

This program, Nixon said, "is working and will continue to work because it cuts right to the heart of the problem."

Overworked Medic Chided by Judge

CLEVELAND (P)—A former railroad physician Thursday lost a $75,000 injury suit in which he claimed the railroad worked him too hard.

Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee ordered a jury to rule against the doctor and described the case as having the least merit of any he had heard in 18 years.

The judge also suggested that the law firm representing the doctor owed the court an apology for ever beginning the action. Dr. Norbert Kassner, 57, of suburban Lakewood, filed the suit against the Pennsylvania railroad.

Stiff Curfew Brings Quiet To Hong Kong

HONG KONG (P)—An uneasy quiet settled today over riot-torn Kowloon and surrounding villages. Authorities kept a tight curfew clamped on Hong Kong's mainland territory where two days of frenzied rioting and factional fighting left 44 dead.

The colony's British government also sealed Hong Kong's border with Communist China, presumably to prevent Red agents from slipping across to further inflame the atmosphere.

Acting Gov. E. B. Davis extended the curfew imposed Thursday until Saturday morning to give police a better chance to round up persons suspected of leading the riots.

Housewives in each of Kowloon's six curfew zones were allowed only two hours a day on the streets to buy provisions. Gurkha troops from Himalayan Nepal lined the streets as crowds rushed to the stores.

Except for those hours, Kowloon was almost a dead city. Its streets were deserted, and most restaurants and all movie houses closed their doors.

Eighty of the 165 persons arrested during the rioting were brought into court and charged with rioting and unlawful assembly in a heavily guarded courtroom. They were ordered held for hearing on Tuesday.

Ohio Marine Testifies at Court-Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (P)—Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, of Norwalk, Ohio, testified here today that Marine Cpl. Richard Bille of Erie, Pa., punched him in the stomach after he failed to call Bille "sir."

Hamisfar was hospitalized next day for a hernia operation.

The strapping, 20-year-old Ohio farm boy took the stand at the opening of Bille's special court-martial on charges of maltreating a person subject to his orders.

Hamisfar's testimony was corroborated by three other recruits.

Hamisfar told the six-man court that his recruit platoon was drawing equipment when the incident occurred. He said Bille held up an item and asked whether the recruits had it. Hamisfar said he told Bille that he didn't.

Then, Hamisfar testified, Bille came up to him and demanded:

"Don't you know enough to say sir? I said, 'yes, sir.' Then he hit me in the stomach."

Bille, whose home is Erie, Pa., if found guilty faces a maximum punishment of a bad conduct discharge, confinement at hard labor up to six months and forfeiture of two-thirds of his pay and reduction to private.

Missouri Girl Likes Mom's No-School Plan

CENTERTOWN, Mo. (P)—Bright-eyed Mary Schoenheit eagerly agrees with her mother's contention Mary shouldn't have to go to school.

"I don't like school," said the slender 7-year-old. "I think it's a bore. Whenever I think of it I want to cry. And my mother didn't tell me to say that either."

Raymond McDaniel, acting superintendent of Moniteau County schools, said he would file charges in Magistrate's Court against Mrs. Mary L. Schoenheit unless Mary reports for classes today.

Mrs. Schoenheit, 46, and a former Illinois school teacher, has been tutoring Mary at home.

She calls schools "antiquated institutions," says they have an "inhuman passion for uniformity," turn children into "trained seals."

Both Mary and her mother are eager to go to court.

Mary takes violin lessons from her mother along with her other studies and she said she'd like to play for the judge.

Mrs. Schoenheit contends she is complying with Missouri law by giving Mary instruction equal to that in public schools.

McDaniel points out Mrs. Schoenheit has no Missouri teacher's certificate, consequently "does not qualify as an instructor capable of giving the child equal education at home."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 19 and have a problem. All my life I have relied on my mother to help me with every decision. In choosing clothes, for example, it is almost essential to have her there to help me.

My parents are as good as can be found, and I have two wonderful (younger) brothers. I am attractive, friendly to everyone and enjoy meeting people; but in a large company I feel lost and wordless; and when I go downtown I feel self-conscious. Now that I have a job, and am more or less on my own (a little), the problem seems to be getting worse.

I have a wonderful boy friend of good family, who has asked me to marry him. We have been going together six months. He is nice looking, dresses well, is very understanding, takes an interest in my hobbies, and our religion is the same. He put himself through two years of college, when his parents couldn't afford it; and is going to night school to further his education.

I think I really do love him; and yet I wonder, I just can't decide that he is the one and only for me, because I fear I may make a mistake; or that I might find someone else, after we were engaged.

DEAR E. J.: Now that you are venturing out into life on your own a little, your problem seems to be getting worse, you say. And although you don't name the problem, I gather it is timidity.

In the "Encyclopedia of Child Care and Guidance" (Doubleday), edited by Sidonie Gruenberg, we find (see pages 558-560) an instructive discussion of timidity and shyness—and a distinction is made between the two.

"True timidity has a pronounced element of fear in it, we are told. And timidity has numerous causes, common among them being the over-solicitous parent—who protects the child from every danger, and helps him with everything he attempts to do."

The youngster whose accomplishments, behavior and appearance are habitually compared with other children, or whose taste in friends is too carefully censored by well meaning parents, may develop (1) "timid misgivings about his judgment and (2) flight-reactions to test situations. Maybe your good-hearted parents have sapped your courage and hindered your growth by doting over-protectiveness. If such is the case, a clear awareness of the pattern of problem, a sane resolve to overcome it, and the passing of time, ought to bring a turn for the better.

To get engaged at your age, 19, after only a few months dating, might be premature, I think. So your hesitancy may be well founded. However, an engagement isn't a final commitment; it is more in the nature of an option, that may, or may not, eventuate in a binding contract. Approximately one-half of all engagements break up. Further, a series of studies indicates that longer engagements (say two years or more) are better policy than shorter ones; af-

By B. E. KELLEY

I was one of a large number who attended the annual ham supper, given by the Eber PTO in the Eber school building Tuesday night.

The PTO has a reputation for serving good suppers, and the one Tuesday night was fully up to par.

Not only was the ham good, but everything that went with it, and one had a choice of several things so that all were pleased.

Serving started shortly before the scheduled hour, and the crowd of 475 was handled promptly with no waiting. The large number of women handled the serving with well organized ability.

Most of the food, except the hams, was donated, but just how much was cleared had not been ascertained Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Carman was the efficient chairman, and her immediate assistants were Mrs. Emil Howard and Mrs. Loring Harrop, with Mrs. Charles Wood dining room chairman.

UNCLE TOM AGAIN

Office Stookey recalls that the last showing of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Washington C. H., was in the old Empire Theater, West Court St. and Hinde St., on the site of the Standard Oil Service Station and Albers Supermarket, and not on the Burke lot at East and Fayette Sts., as I had recalled in a previous article.

Office said that the showing in the old theater (which later was a skating rink), was in 1914, which was several years after the famous play had been presented under a tent on the Burke lot.

The Harcourt troupe, of Williamsport, which for years toured the country with an "Uncle Tom" show, presented the two performances here, on the Burke lot and in the Empire Theater.

FAMOUS BICYCLE RACE

I do not recall who won it, but when I was a youngster about 12 years of age, I walked four miles to get a fleeting look at a bicycle race which included a half score of riders, most of whom were from Washington C. H. The speed classic which took them from Washington C. H. to the State road east of Jeffersonville, east on the State road to the Bloomingburg and Sedalia Road, thence south into Bloomingburg and to the Columbus road, and scantily clad, wearing only short trousers, and that one of the riders, weary but still keeping up the gruelling pace, virtually lost his trousers while passing through Bloomingburg, so that his appearance was, to use a Snuffy Smith expression, "a scandal to the jaybirds."

I watched them swish around the corner at the old Paint Township House at the intersection of the State road and Bloomingburg and Sedalia road.

REAL TEST FOR CARS

Years ago when some Fayette Countians wanted an automobile that could really climb a hill without shifting into low gear, they insisted on a demonstration test up Bray's Hill east of Frankfort.

If the car could climb the hill in high then it was really desirable, and they bought it.

However it was many years after the first cars were built before one with sufficient power to negotiate the hill on high was available.

I remember riding up the hill with Walter W. Hamilton who took just pride in calling attention to the fact that his car was doing the hill in high.

Speaking of Bray's Hill, I note that the State Highway Department has made a survey and is planning to relocate the road for some two miles east of Frankfort, and eliminate most of the steep grade by passing to the north of the hill with a much easier grade. The new location eats into the BonDay peach orchard on the north side of the present road, and spans a section of the swamp east of Frankfort.

Beulah Has Yen To Roam, Pulls Donnie with Her

DETROIT (AP)—Six-year-old Donnie knew 5-year-old Beulah shouldn't be running away from home like that so he took out after her. He caught her, but his four-foot, 50-pound frame was no match for her four-foot, 90-pound one, and Beulah had a yen to roam.

Donnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rivard and Beulah is their boxer dog.

Donnie said Beulah didn't want to go home, so he followed, yanking to no avail now and then on her chain collar.

Police spotted a big dog and a small boy trudging along more than a mile from Donnie's home. So when Donnie's alarmed parents called an hour later the police knew where to start looking.

"I'm lost," Donnie told policemen. "I didn't want to come down here, but Beulah did."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 19 and have a problem. All my life I have relied on my mother to help me with every decision. In choosing clothes, for example, it is almost essential to have her there to help me.

My parents are as good as can be found, and I have two wonderful (younger) brothers. I am attractive, friendly to everyone and enjoy meeting people; but in a large company I feel lost and wordless; and when I go downtown I feel self-conscious. Now that I have a job, and am more or less on my own (a little), the problem seems to be getting worse.

I have a wonderful boy friend of good family, who has asked me to marry him. We have been going together six months. He is nice looking, dresses well, is very understanding, takes an interest in my hobbies, and our religion is the same. He put himself through two years of college, when his parents couldn't afford it; and is going to night school to further his education.

I think I really do love him; and yet I wonder. I just can't decide that he is the one-and-only for me, because I fear I may make a mistake; or that I might find someone else, after we were engaged.

DEAR E. J.: Now that you are venturing out into life on your own a little, your problem seems to be getting worse, you say. And although you don't name the problem, I gather it is timidity.

In the "Encyclopedia of Child Care and Guidance (Doubleday)", edited by Sidonie Gruenberg, we find (see pages 558-560) an instructive discussion of timidity and shyness—and a distinction is made between the two.

"True timidity has a pronounced element of fear in it, we are told. And timidity has numerous causes, common among them being the over-solicitous parent—who protects the child from every danger, and helps him with everything he attempts to do."

The youngster whose accomplishments, behavior and appearance are habitually compared with other children, or whose taste in friends is too carefully censored by well meaning parents, may develop (1) "timid misgivings about his judgment and (2) flight-reactions to test situations. Maybe your good-hearted parents have sapped your courage and hindered your growth by doting over-protectiveness. If such is the case, a clear awareness of the pattern of problem, a sane resolve to overcome it, and the passing of time, ought to bring a turn for the better.

To get engaged at your age, 19, after only a few months dating, might be premature, I think. So your hesitation may be well founded. However, an engagement isn't a final commitment; it is more in the nature of an option, that may, or may not, eventuate in a binding contract. Approximately one-half of all engagements break up.

Further, a series of studies indicates that longer engagements (say two years or more) are better policy than shorter ones; after

The Calling Card To Youth's Advancement

More and more parents, let it be said to their credit, are urging their children to complete their education, at the very least to the point of graduating from high school.

This, of course, is one reason for the hue and cry across our country regarding the need for more teachers, more schools and increased administration expenses.

With the people usually responding in a generous way, the main danger in this movement when it gets to rolling like an avalanche, lies sometimes in the lack of making the best use of the tax dollars spent and failure to do the kind of planning that will get the best results for the least expense. There is great temptation, when money comes easily, to go beyond our means and not make the most of facilities already available.

On the issue of seeing that our school children receive the best possible education in our public schools there is little opposition and quite general public agreement. The criticism comes when there is unnecessary duplication of facilities and wasted money. In all this hub - bub the taxpayer too often is the forgotten man.

Certain phrases have a way of catching the attention. Such a one recently was "your calling card to advancement" used by a committee in the federal Office of Education in its back - to - school project - a campaign to hold boys and girls in high school until they graduated. According to information gathered by the Departments of Labor and of Health, Welfare and Education, in civilian life, as well as in the Armed Forces, a "high school diploma is the calling card to advancement."

It is pointed out that the more education a person has, the more likely he is to get a job, because the employer wants an employee that is trainable. The Labor Department lists 71 occupations today where there are shortages of labor; and, in all, the minimum educational requirement is at least a high school diploma.

Unemployment figures show that those with less than a eighth grade education are most likely to be jobless. The earnings of a high school graduate average about $500 a year more than that of the eighth grade pupil.

Every year, the demand for a high school education increases because of the complexity of jobs today as opposed to those of 25 years ago. More and more, skilled labor is demanded; and it would seem, if statistics are correct, that if a boy or girl wishes to advance, his "calling card" is at least a high school diploma.

However, the "calling card to advancement" also should mean teaching economy and not the idea that while money seems easy to get we had better grab all we can and spend as fast as we can.

French Wine Supply Hurt

PARIS (U)—Last winter's bitter cold, the most severe to hit Europe in a long time, will be felt many years hence in the world's wine cellars.

But French wine exporters and government experts do not appear particularly alarmed. After all, they say, the French wine industry has survived many bad seasons and this one is not the worst.

No official figures are yet available on this year's crop. A cold, rainy summer delayed the wine harvest about three weeks. It was September sun that finally ripened the grapes and permitted wine growers to start their annual "vendage."

Unofficial estimates, however, say this year's wine production in France will be cut about 140 million U. S. gallons, or one tenth of the country's average output.

The winter's ravages and fear of poor crop had sent wine prices up about 20 per cent earlier in the year. Later, however, expectations of a fair harvest in the Burgundy, Champagne and Alsace regions helped steady the market. Nevertheless, wine prices this year are between 10 to 15 per cent higher.

Hardest hit by snowstorms and frost was the Bordeaux region, largest wine-producing area of France. About a third of the region's vineyards were destroyed. Wine producers admit that the quality of this year's Bordeaux will be a "little worse."

It will take at least three years before some winter - ravaged

Bordeaux vineyards start producing again. In the meantime, export stocks will not be replaced by Bordeaux wines in the usual quantity. Wine exporters hope to increase shipments from the Champagne and Burgundy regions to offset any Bordeaux shortages.

French wine exporters are looking to the United States as a "quality wines market of the future."

Although rating fifth in the volume of purchases of French wines, the United States in 1955 was third in value of its wine imports. At the same time, the United States was the leading purchaser of French alcoholic products, including brandies and liqueurs.

Differences of Opinion

By George Sokolsky

It is interesting that the State Department has invited some Russian officials to come and look at our election this year. What they will be shown, I cannot imagine, but it probably will be of value to them to discover that difference of opinion without reprisals is a normal condition of American life.

They will listen to Stevenson say that Eisenhower does not know how to conduct the office of president and they will hear Eisenhower say that Stevenson issues forth a lot of wicked nonsense which is another phrase for bull. And nobody is purged.

And when it will all be over and the votes counted whoever loses will send a telegram to the winner congratulating him on his success. And nobody really will care much, one way or the other - that is, after it is over with. And whoever is elected will be proclaimed to be the greatest president since George Washington and the most wonderful man in the world except for some baseball player or radio singer.

It might teach these Russians not to take themselves too seriously. After all, when Lenin died, Stalin took his place, although Trotsky, Kamenev and Zinoviev wanted to (they were killed); and after Stalin died, Khrushchev took his place, although Beria, Malenkov and Molotov wanted to (only Beria was killed).

So they might see what an election here is, where nobody gets killed and where the only weapons are hot words. And nobody was ever destroyed beyond recourse by words.

The essence of our political system is difference of opinion, difference of judgment, different ways of responding to challenges. During an election campaign, a candidate's ideas, his life, his marriage, his proclivities are scrutinized and he is subject to the most detailed probing.

Also with us, one man's opinion is as important as another's because each only has one vote. Only the professors in universities regard themselves as superior to the rest of mankind for as a statement by the Assn. of American Universities once put it: "... Because of the vital importance of the university to civilization, membership in its society of scholars enhances the prestige of persons admitted to its fellowship after probation and upon the basis of achievement in research and teaching. ...

Nevertheless, the professor has only one vote, the same as a plumber or a carpenter or an undertaker who nowadays goes by the fancy name of a mortician. And as the professor or even the president of the United States, on election day, only has one vote, on that day, at least, all men are equal. And one man's opinion is equal to anyone else's opinion be one a professor and the other a moron. It is only in that context - only in that context - that the United States is a democracy.

The essential mechanism of our political structure is the two-party system. Sometimes the parties have been in direct opposition to each other on fundamental social and economic questions as when William McKinley and William Jennings Bryan opposed each other in 1896. At other times, the parties lack ideological differences and then the personalities seem more important.

That is true in this campaign of 1956 when the Republicans and Democrats no longer know why they oppose each other, but the Republicans have a slogan, "I like Ike," and the Democrats prefer not to like Ike.

Should Eisenhower be defeated, it will cease to be advantageous to like Ike and many of those who now do will like someone else; should Stevenson be defeated for a second time, he will be forgotten like last summer's zinnias.

As a matter of fact, Harry Truman and Walter Reuther would then contend for Democratic leadership. That is the way of the two-party system. Ex-presidents and ex-candidates usually obliterate themselves.

Maybe the Russians will be able to study the techniques of election and how much it costs to run a campaign and how the money is collected, above the table and under the table. They may not like what they see if they see the whole thing.

They may decide that it is cheaper and more efficient to elect a president by a couple of murders, the way Stalin murdered his opposition.

There is, of course, this further point, that if murder is used, there need not be so much very bad oratory.

The Calling Card To Youth's Advancement

More and more parents, let it be said to their credit, are urging their children to complete their education, at the very least to the point of graduating from high school.

This, of course, is one reason for the hue and cry across our country regarding the need for more teachers, more schools and increased administration expenses.

With the people usually responding in a generous way, the main danger in this movement when it gets to rolling like an avalanche, lies sometimes in the lack of making the best use of the tax dollars spent and failure to do the kind of planning that will get the best results for the least expense. There is great temptation, when money comes easily, to go beyond our means and not make the most of facilities already available.

On the issue of seeing that our school children receive the best possible education in our public schools there is little opposition and quite general public agreement. The criticism comes when there is unnecessary duplication of facilities and wasted money. In all this hub-bub the taxpayer too often is the forgotten man.

Certain phrases have a way of catching the attention. Such a one recently was "your calling card to advancement" used by a committee in the federal Office of Education in its back-to-school project—a campaign to hold boys and girls in high school until they graduated. According to information gathered by the Departments of Labor and of Health, Welfare and Education, in civilian life, as well as in the Armed Forces, a "high school diploma is the calling card to advancement."

It is pointed out that the more education a person has, the more likely he is to get a job, because the employer wants an employee that is trainable. The Labor Department lists 71 occupations today where there are shortages of labor; and, in all, the minimum educational requirement is at least a high school diploma.

Unemployment figures show that those with less than a eighth grade education are most likely to be jobless. The earnings of a high school graduate average about $500 a year more than that of the eighth grade pupil.

Every year, the demand for a high school education increases because of the complexity of jobs today as opposed to those of 25 years ago. More and more, skilled labor is demanded; and it would seem, if statistics are correct, that if a boy or girl wishes to advance, his "calling card" is at least a high school diploma.

However, the "calling card to advancement" also should mean teaching economy and not the idea that while money seems easy to get we had better grab all we can and spend as fast as we can.

French Wine Supply Hurt

PARIS (AP)—Last winter's bitter cold, the most severe to hit Europe in a long time, will be felt many years hence in the world's wine cellars.

But French wine exporters and government experts do not appear particularly alarmed. After all, they say, the French wine industry has survived many bad seasons and this one is not the worst.

No official figures are yet available on this year's crop. A cold, rainy summer delayed the wine harvest about three weeks. It was September sun that finally ripened the grapes and permitted wine growers to start their annual "vendange."

Unofficial estimates, however, say this year's wine production in France will be cut about 140 million U. S. gallons, or one tenth of the country's average output.

The winter's ravages and fear of poor crop had sent wine prices up about 20 per cent earlier in the year. Later, however, expectations of a fair harvest in the Burgundy, Champagne and Alsace regions helped steady the market. Nevertheless, wine prices this year are between 10 to 15 per cent higher.

Hardest hit by snowstorms and frost was the Bordeaux region, largest wine-producing area of France. About a third of the region's vineyards were destroyed. Wine producers admit that the quality of this year's Bordeaux will be a "little worse."

It will take at least three years before some winter-ravaged

Bordeaux vineyards start producing again. In the meantime, export stocks will not be replaced by Bordeaux wines in the usual quantity. Wine exporters hope to increase shipments from the Champagne and Burgundy regions to offset any Bordeaux shortages.

French wine exporters are looking to the United States as a "quality wines market of the future."

Although rating fifth in the volume of purchases of French wines, the United States in 1955 was third in value of its wine imports. At the same time, the United States was the leading purchaser of French alcoholic products, including brandies and liqueurs.

Differences of Opinion

It is interesting that the State Department has invited some Russian officials to come and look at our election this year. What they will be shown, I cannot imagine, but it probably will be of value to them to discover that difference of opinion without reprisals is a normal condition of American life.

They will listen to Stevenson say that Eisenhower does not know how to conduct the office of president and they will hear Eisenhower say that Stevenson issues forth a lot of wicked nonsense which is another phrase for bull. And nobody is purred.

And when it will all be over and the votes counted whoever loses will send a telegram to the winner congratulating him on his success. And nobody really will care much, one way or the other—that is, after it is over with. And whoever is elected will be proclaimed to be the greatest president since George Washington and the most wonderful man in the world except for some baseball player or radio singer.

It might teach these Russians not to take themselves too seriously. After all, when Lenin died, Stalin took his place, although Trotsky, Kamenov and Zinoviev wanted to (they were killed); and after Stalin died, Khrushchev took his place, although Beria, Malenkov and Molotov wanted to (only Beria was killed).

So they might see what an election here is, where nobody gets killed and where the only weapons are hot words. And nobody was ever destroyed beyond recourse by words.

The essence of our political system is difference of opinion, difference of judgment, different ways of responding to challenges. During an election campaign, a candidate's ideas, his life, his marriage, his proclivities are scrutinized and he is subject to the most detailed probing.

Also with us, one man's opinion is as important as another's because each only has one vote. Only the professors in universities regard themselves as superior to the rest of mankind for as a statement by the Assn. of American Universities once put it: "...Because of the vital importance of the university to civilization, membership in its society of scholars enhances the prestige of persons admitted to its fellowship after probation and upon the basis of achievement in research and teaching. . . ."

Nevertheless, the professor has only one vote, the same as a plumber or a carpenter or an undertaker who nowadays goes by the fancy name of a mortician. And as the professor or even the president of the United States, on election day, only has one vote, on that day, at least, all men are equal. And one man's opinion is equal to anyone else's opinion be one a professor and the other a moron. It is only in that context—only in that context—that the United States is a democracy.

The essential mechanism of our political structure is the two-party system. Sometimes the parties have been in direct opposition to each other on fundamental social and economic questions as when William McKinley and William Jennings Bryan opposed each other in 1896. At other times, the parties lack ideological differences and then the personalities seem more important.

That is true in this campaign of 1956 when the Republicans and Democrats no longer know why they oppose each other, but the Republicans have a slogan, "I like Ike," and the Democrats prefer not to like Ike.

Should Eisenhower be defeated, it will cease to be advantageous to like Ike and many of those who now do will like someone else; should Stevenson be defeated for a second time, he will be forgotten like last summer's zinnias.

As a matter of fact, Harry Truman and Walter Reuther would then contend for Democratic leadership. That is the way of the two-party system. Ex-presidents and ex-candidates usually obliterate themselves.

Maybe the Russians will be able to study the techniques of election and how much it costs to run a campaign and how the money is collected, above the table and under the table. They may not like what they see if they see the whole thing.

They may decide that it is cheaper and more efficient to elect a president by a couple of murders, the way Stalin murdered his opposition. There is, of course, this further point, that if murder is used, there need not be so much very bad oratory.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

How Far Can You See?

How distant is your horizon?

That depends on your point of view... where you are when you look. Of course, the higher you are the farther you can see. Jesus said, "Friend, come up higher."

He wants you to see better... to see the world's misery and needs through His eyes. He wants you to see one-third of the earth's population going to bed hungry every night... one-fourth of the world existing on less than the average American spends for cigarettes and alcohol. Are you guilty?

God wants you to look at the world as He does. He wants you to see the people of other races and nationalities as He sees them... your neighbor, around the world, as your brother. Maybe you need to go to church Sunday and let Him take away the dimness of your eyes. He can open up new horizons for you to view. He wants you to do something about your own shriveled soul and for the souls of His people throughout the world.

You can see farther when you look through Jesus.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Suresmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

A NATIVE of Indiana, Butz had been head of the Purdue Agricultural Economics Department since 1946. He was born and reared on a 250-acre general livestock farm near Albion, Ind. He took a B. S. Degree in agriculture at Purdue in 1932, and a doctor's degree in agricultural economics at the same university in 1937.

Following completion of part of his advanced educational work, Butz was research economist on the staff of the Federal Land Bank, Louisville, Ky., in 1935-36. He joined the staff of Purdue University in 1937 as instructor in agricultural economics and advanced progressively until 10 years later when he became head of the University's Department of Agricultural Economics.

Oklahoma Expected To Chalk 33rd Straight Grid Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oklahoma's Sooners expect to make it official Saturday.

Bud Wilkinson's lads went out and lashed Kansas State 66-0 last week to apparently snap their own major college record for consecutive wins, making the Wildcats their 32nd straight victim.

But the NCAA Service Bureau Thursday came up with a new wrinkle and decided that Pittsburgh held the previous record from 1914-1919 by accumulating 33. The Sooners should have little trouble equaling the Panthers' record against Texas.

Oklahoma, No. 1 in the weekly Associated Press poll, ironically gets an opportunity to tie the mark against the same team it defeated to start its string. In 1953 the Sooners overcame the stubborn Longhorns 19-14.

The nation's second-ranked team the Spartans from Michigan State, go after their third in a row tonight, meeting Indiana, which bowed to Notre Dame last week. The Spartans will be minus the services of their rugged halfback Walt Kowalczyk, who has an ailing ankle.

In the only major action tonight, Miami, straining to hop into the nation's top 10 teams, meets the weekend Maryland squad.

All the top teams, except Southern California, see action Saturday. Georgia Tech, No. 3 on the basis of two tough wins—Kentucky 14-6 and Southern Methodist 9-7, will display its most potent offense against Louisiana State. For the first time this season quarterback Wade Mitchell and half George Volkert will be together.

Fourth-ranking Texas Christian should be able to spring Ji Swink loose against winless Alabama. Ohio State (No. 5) faces a tough challenge in Big Ten opponent Illinois, while Tennessee (No. 6) tackles Chattanooga. Mississippi (No. 7) faces a stern test in upset-minded Vanderbilt. Ninth-rated Texas A&M battles Houston at night and 10th rated Baylor with three victories, meets the Razorbacks of Arkansas.

In the Ivy League, Brown and Dartmouth clash in a battle of also rans. Columbia will try to get its initial score of the season against Yale. Penn will be looking to lengthen its on-game winning streak at the hands of favored Princeton, and Cornell plays Harvard.

In other eastern tests, Boston U. meets George Washington under the lights and Syracuse hosts West Virginia.

On the coast, California is at Oregon State; Stanford tests San Jose State; UCLA battles Washington State, and Washington meets Oregon.

Calhoun, Sullivan Slated for Match

CLEVELAND (AP)—Both Rory Calhoun and John L. Sullivan, who fight in a middleweight 10-rounder here tonight, hope to go Joey Giardello as next opponent. And the experts hereabouts say Calhoun will be the one whose hope is still alive Saturday.

But the experts were wrong in placing their bets two weeks ago when Giardello whipped Bobby Boyd and sent his stock as a middleweight contender way up.

Giardello, who hasn't been committed to meet tonight's winner, will be on hand to watch Sullivan, veteran from England, swap punches with the 22-year-old Calhoun, an Atlanta minister's son.

Buckeyes Off For Contest With Illini

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State's Bucks abandoned their ground attack today and took to the airways—just long enough to fly to Illinois for Saturday's Western Conference opener.

The Bucks, with victories over Nebraska and Stanford tucked away, are one-touchdown favorites over Ray Ehot's Illini who defeated California and then dropped a verdict to Washington.

Ohio State will be going after its third straight Big Ten title and its 14th straight conference victory, as well as the third in a row over Illinois. In the last 10 years the Bucks have won five, lost four and tied one with Illini.

The two-game statistic give Ohio the slightest of edges. Each team has registered 36 first downs, and the Illinois has allowed the foe to move 670 yards while Ohio has given up 667 yards.

Illinois has fumbled the ball away four times, and had two passes intercepted, but the Bucks haven't made a miscue.

Among the big questions is whether the Illini forward wall, averaging 210 pounds, can contain the Buck land assault. In two games the Ohioans have had the ball 24 times, scoring 10 touchdowns, punting nine times, losing it three times on downs, and the clock halting them twice.

One touchdown came on a blocked punt, but the Ohioans drove a total of 562 yards for the other nine—an average of 62.4 yards for each payoff under their "possession" type of play.

Saturday's game is the 45th in the long series dating back to 1902. Of the 44 to date, Ohio has won 25, lost 16 and tied 3. Game time is 1:30 p. m. (EST), and the contest will be telecast.

Yanks Each Get $9,000 in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Counting an extra $83,000 from radio and post-game broadcast rights, the World Series player pool will be about $776,000. Of this total, 70 per cent goes to the two contesting clubs on a 60-40 split.

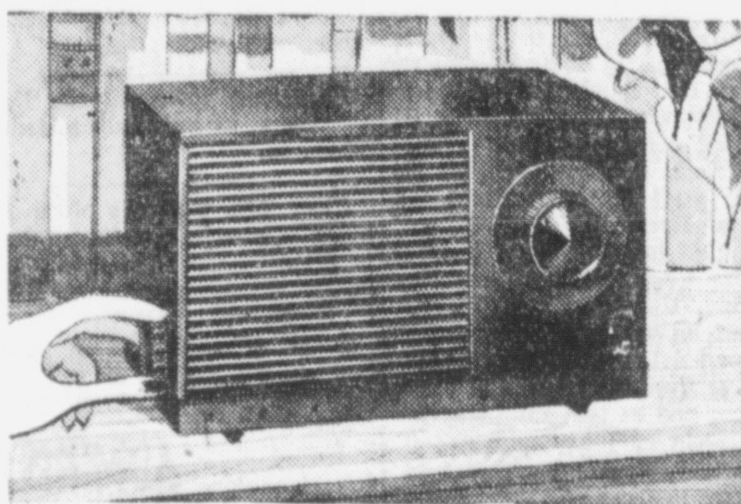

It is understood the Yankees have 36 shares at roughly $9,000 per share and the Dodgers have 31 shares at about $7,000.

It is understood also the Yankees voted Enos Slaughter, 40-year-old veteran, a three-fourths share.

3 Youths, 2 Vets On Davis Cup Team

NEW YORK (AP)—America's hopes of regaining the Davis Cup from Australia have been put up officially to two veterans of international tennis competition and three promising youths.

The U. S. selection committee, headed by Chauncey D. Steele Jr. Thursday named Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, S.M. Giammalva of Houston, Myron Frank of Los Angeles and Mike Green of Miami Beach to make the trip to Australia. Billy Talbert is the non-playing captain.

One touchdown came on a blocked punt, but the Ohioans drove a total of 562 yards for the other nine—an average of 62.4 yards for each payoff under their "possession" type of play.

Saturday's game is the 45th in the long series dating back to 1902. Of the 44 to date, Ohio has won 25, lost 16 and tied 3. Game time is 1:30 p. m. (EST), and the contest will be telecast.

Yanks Each Get $9,000 in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Counting an extra $83,000 from radio and post-game broadcast rights, the World Series player pool will be about $776,000. Of this total, 70 per cent goes to the two contesting clubs on a 60-40 split.

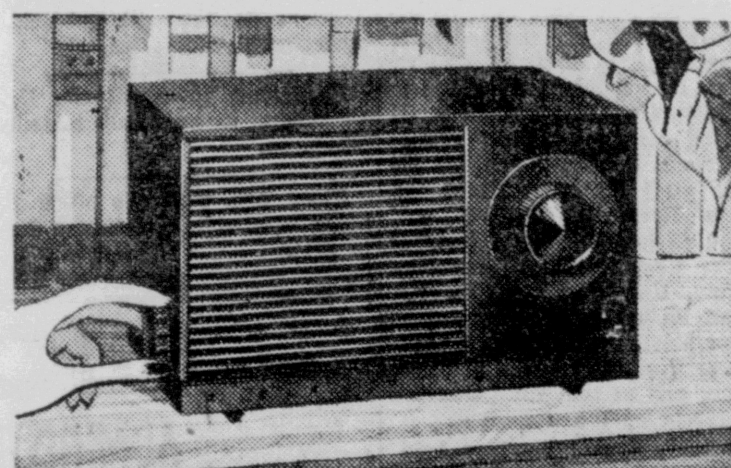

It is understood the Yankees have 36 shares at roughly $9,000 per share and the Dodgers have 31 shares at about $7,000.

It is understood also the Yankees voted Enos Slaughter, 40-year-old veteran, a three-fourths share.

Cub Shakeup Brings Old Vets To Forefront

Ex-Catcher Scheffing Slated To Be Named As Field Manager

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are convinced that old brooms sweep cleaner.

They were expected to complete their house cleaning today by naming Bob Scheffing, one of their ex-catchers, as field manager.

There isn't much of a new look in the Cubs' shakeup from front office to the field which started Thursday when Personnel Director Wid Matthews, Business Manager Jim Gallagher and skipper Stan Hack resigned.

Returning to his third hitch with the club is Charlie Grimm. Joining him in the reorganized front office is John Holland, in baseball 35 of his 46 years and on the Cub pay roll the last 11.

They were given titles of vice president.

Holland, a president of the Cubs' Los Angeles farm in the Pacific Coast League, and Scheffing as field manager, produced a pennant this year.

Remaining as executive vice president of the Cubs is another veteran, 75-year-old Clarence (Pants) Rowland.

They have the assignment of lifting the Cubs up by the bootstraps after 10 dismal seasons in the National League second division.

The Cubs finished 1956 in last place for the fourth time since 1949 and with 94 defeats, worst record in their history.

Matthews was Branch Rickey's "talent man" with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers when Cub owner P. K. Wrigley hired him in 1950. He is a smiling, 59-year-old gentleman who sincerely thought the Cubs were on the climb and received the brunt of criticism when they kept tailspinning.

No sooner had Wid resigned than Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said that he "is a very capable fellow and we'd like to have him in our organization."

Gallagher, a former Chicago sports writer, had been with the Cubs since 1940. One rumor has him winding up across town with the White Sox.

Hack was a long-time third baseman for the Cubs and managed the Des Moines and Los Angeles farm clubs before replacing one of his former teammates, Phil Cavarretta, at the helm in the spring of 1954. He was the Bruins' fourth manager in eight years.

Key man in the new order appears to be Holland, a stocky mild-mannered man who cut his teeth on a baseball bat.

"There won't be any title except that of vice president," said Wrigley. "The only time you have to designate authority is when there is a conflict. There definitely will be no general manager. I'm allergic to them."

Vice President Grimm, however, said that "Holland is the 'general manager' and will run the show. I will work closely with the organization."

Grimm, who resigned last June as pilot of the Milwaukee Braves, has been a Cub favorite ever since he broke in as the team's first baseman in 1925. He was manager from 1932 until 1938, when he quit, and he returned to the club as manager in 1944.

The Cubs won the pennant under Grimm in 1932, 1935 and 1945, but started their nosedive in 1946. In 1949 Grimm was moved up to the post of vice president.

Lions To Meet Indians; Hope To 'Cool Them Off'

The Washington Lions will fight it out with the Indians on the football field at Hillsboro Friday night in the second SCO League game for each team.

The Indians have a 2-1 record and the Lions stand at 2-2. Both teams won their last games, the Lions over Greenfield 24-6 and the Indians over Circleville 14-6.

Both teams have scouted each other thoroughly and will be looking for a tough contest. The Hillsboro boys are sure to be "up" for this game, but Head Coach Fred Domenico of the Lions said: "I think we can cool those boys off and show them who's boss out there on the field."

THE COACH was "very pleased" with the Lion practice under the lights Thursday.

"The boys were full of pep," said Domenico, "and we came off the field right on schedule." The Thursday night session was a final practice for the purpose of getting assignments down pat and getting out the kinks left by the week's practices.

Some cold virus was floating around earlier this week and a couple of boys were out of school. But everyone's ready for Friday's game and will be raring to go, Domenico said.

The Lions will dress here for the game and leave by Greyhound for Hillsboro at 6 p. m., arriving an hour or so before the game.

"WE'RE TAKING our time this week. I want the boys to be 'right' for this one," said Domenico. "Last week several boys turned in excellent performances, and I feel that keeping relaxed before a ball game is what does it, in part."

So the boys are going to keep cool until it's time to put out the Hillsboro fire.

Here's the tentative Lion lineup: ends, Eldon Brown and Ronnie

Duck Season In Ohio To Open Monday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's 70-day duck-hunting season opens Monday and ends Dec. 22, with shooting limited to the period between a half-hour before sunrise to a half-hour before sunset.

The Ohio Division of wildlife said the early-season hunters probably would have only homegrown waterfowl at which to fire, since no mass movement of birds from the Canadian marshes has started.

All hunters who have reached their 16th birthday, except owners, tenants or farm managers on their own land, must have an Ohio hunting license. Also, all must have a federal duck stamp.

Early season marksmen will have less game at which to shoot, but will have more time to spend in the blinds. The first day's sunrise-sunset period is about 11 hours and 11 minutes. The closing day period is 9 hours and 20 minutes, with the others graduated between those limits.

The division reminded hunters the daily bag limit on ducks is four, with a limit of eight in possession after the first day; the limit on geese is five, with not more than two Canadian geese or two white-fronted geese included; that the season is closed on wood ducks, and killing of the latter will cost from $15 to $200 each, plus court costs.

The sunrise-sunset figures, which differ some 13 minutes on opposite sides of the state, apply to the area in which the shooter is doing his hunting, not on a statewide basis.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Juniors Lose To Greenfield

Team Fights Hard, Goes Down, 13 to 0

Washington Junior High gridders followed the footsteps of their older brothers, the Reserves, in dropping a hard-fought game to the Greenfield Junior High team, 13-0, at Gardner Park Field Thursday.

The big Washington boys, coming up against stiff opposition for the first time this year, found themselves in the second half and held the Greenfield 11 scoreless in the last two cantos.

Two Washington scoring attempts were cut short, once by the clock in the fourth quarter and once by a fumble on the Greenfield three-yard line in the second quarter.

The Greenfield scores came on a 20-yard pass in the first quarter and a 25-yard dash around end in the second quarter.

David Reno and Aaron Foster made the most consistent gains on the ground for Washington. Credit from their coach, Herb Russell, went to Dan Williamson, Jerry Phillips, Gilbert Crouse, Reno and Foster for their stout defensive play.

The next Junior High game will be with Hillsboro next week.

The Washington High School Reserves lost to Greenfield this week 33-7.

U. S. Olympic System Said To Be Insane

OXFORD (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, once America's top mile runner, calls the American system of selecting Olympic team members through qualifying meets "completely insane."

Cunningham, speaking Thursday at an assembly of high school pupils, blamed the qualifying system for America's poor showing in Olympic middle and long distance runs. And he predicted this country would fare badly in this year's Olympics in those events.

American Olympic team members are selected in qualifying meets and previous performances are not considered.

"The men are run to death before they get to the games," said Cunningham.

"Consistency of performance should mean something in qualifying."

He added, "Don Lash should have been the 5,000-meter winner in the 1936 Olympics at Berlin but he left his records back home on the qualifying tracks of the U. S. Bill Graber should have won

O'Malley said the big 27-game winner boarded the plane in New York with no baggage.

Duck Season In Ohio To Open Monday

COLUMBUS (P)—Ohio's 70-day duck-hunting season opens Monday and ends Dec. 22, with shooting limited to the period between a half-hour before sunrise to a half-hour before sunset.

The Ohio Division of wildlife said the early-season hunters probably would have only homegrown waterfowl at which to fire, since no mass movement of birds from the Canadian marshes has started.

All hunters who have reached their 16th birthday, except owners, tenants or farm managers on their own land, must have an Ohio hunting license. Also, all must have a federal duck stamp.

Early season marksmen will have less game at which to shoot, but will have more time to spend in the blinds. The first day's sunrise - sunset period is about 11 hours and 11 minutes. The closing day period is 9 hours and 20 minutes, with the others graduated between those limits.

The division reminded hunters the daily bag limit on ducks is four, with a limit of eight in possession after the first day; the limit on geese is five, with not more than two Canadian geese or two white-fronted geese included; that the season is closed on wood ducks, and killing of the latter will cost from $15 to $200 each, plus court costs.

The sunrise-sunset figures, which differ some 13 minutes on opposite sides of the state, apply to the area in which the shooter is doing his hunting, not on a statewide basis.

Juniors Lose To Greenfield

Team Fights Hard, Goes Down, 13 to 0

Washington Junior High gridders followed the footsteps of their older brothers, the Reserves, in dropping a hard - fought game to the Greenfield Junior High team, 13-0, at Gardner Park Field Thursday.

The big Washington boys, coming up against stiff opposition for the first time this year, found themselves in the second half and held the Greenfield 11 scoreless in the last two cantos.

Two Washington scoring attempts were cut short, once by the clock in the fourth quarter and once by a fumble on the Greenfield three-yard line in the second quarter.

The Greenfield scores came on a 20-yard pass in the first quarter and a 25-yard dash around end in the second quarter.

David Reno and Aaron Foster made the most consistent gains on the ground for Washington. Credit from their coach, Herb Russell, went to Dan Williamson, Jerry Phillips, Gilbert Crouse, Reno and Foster for their standout defensive play.

The next Junior High game will be with Hillsboro next week. The Washington High School Reserves lost to Greenfield this week 33-7.

U. S. Olympic System Said To Be Insane

OXFORD (P)—Glenn Cunningham, once America's top mile runner, calls the American system of selecting Olympic team members through qualifying meets "completely insane."

Cunningham, speaking Thursday at an assembly of high school pupils, blamed the qualifying system for America's poor showing in Olympic middle and long distance runs. And he predicted this country would fare badly in this year's Olympics in those events.

American Olympic team members are selected in qualifying meets and previous performances are not considered.

"The men are run to death before they get to the games," said Cunningham.

"Consistency of performance should mean something in qualifying."

He added, "Don't Lash should have been the 5,000 - meter winner in the 1936 Olympics at Berlin but he left his records back home on the qualifying tracks of the U. S."

"Bill Graber should have won

Big Newk Labeled As 'Promising'

LOS ANGELES (P)—Newsmen asked president Walter O'Malley if he is going to keep his eyes peeled for any promising players when he takes his Brooklyn Dodge ers on a tour of Japan. "One promising player I'm going to look at is named Don Newcombe," O'Malley said. "He borrowed $100 from me the minute he got on the plane Thursday and promised to pay it back."

O'Malley said the big 27-game winner boarded the plane in New York with no baggage.

"AND THE COURT further finds that, for the reasons stated and set forth in its order of disqualification made and issued on Sept. 5, 1956, in the case of John O. Hare, et al., vs. W. J. Hilly, superintendent, Fayette County Board of Education, et al., being cause No. 22195 on the civil docket of this court, the undersigned judge of this court would be disqualified and should step aside from sitting and presiding at any hearing or determining any of the issues raised by said demurrer or said petition.

"It is, therefore, ordered that the defendant's demurrer to the within petition be, and hereby the same is, scheduled and assigned for final hearing at 9:30 a. m., Thursday, Oct. 25, 1956.

"It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that John P. Case, incumbent judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Fayette County, Ohio, be, and hereby said judge is, disqualified from sitting in, presiding over and deciding any of the issues to be heard and determined in the above entitled cause.

"It is further ordered that a copy of this entry and order be served forthwith by mail upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ohio and upon all attorneys of record for the parties herein."

COMMENTING verbally on the order, Judge Case said it "is not intended to reflect any discredit in any way upon any of the attorneys or parties connected in any way with these law suits."

The new action against the county superintendent was filed Monday by County Prosecutor John S. Bath, acting in behalf of the Fayette County Board of Education, on the basis of a state examiner's report on the office of the county board which stated that certain payments made by the board to the superintendent were not properly supported by receipts.

Bath pointed out that filing of a court action is mandatory under law and makes determination of the legality or illegality of the expenditures a matter for court decision.

The superintendent's demurrer, claiming no cause of action, was filed Thursday along with an affidavit signed by county board members stating that the case was filed without their authority and that all of the disputed payments, with a possible $3 exception, were authorized by vote of the board.

Bath pointed out that his action was required by statute, regardless of the wishes of the board.

Two Injured In Collision

One Driver Cited After City Crash

Two persons were taken to Memorial Hospital following a collision at Lewis and Temple Sts., at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Glenn A. Riley, 36, of 1117 Rawlings St., who suffered multiple lacerations of the face and lower extremities, was still in the hospital Friday morning.

Ida May Reed, 18, of 1028 Rawlings St., treated for cuts and abrasions and released Thursday, was charged by police with running a stop sign. When she failed to appear in Municipal Court Friday morning, her $15 bond was declared forfeited.

Riley's sedan was damaged about the front and left side. Miss Reed's car was damaged about the front and right door.

Police said Miss Reed who was driving west on Temple St., reported she did not see the stop sign at Lewis St. and Riley said he ran into her car at the intersection.

The only other accident reported to police Thursday occurred on High St., at 7:05 p. m. when a car driven by Sam Ball, of Waynesville, ran into an automobile owned by Everett Randolph, 34, which was parked in front of the latter's home, 610 High St., and damaged the right rear fender.

Another was released to his parents on probation. He is 16.

The third youth, another 16-year-old, who was committed to the Boys Industrial School, still is in the county jail here, but Sheriff Orland Hays said he would be taken to the Lancaster institution either late Thursday or Friday.

The cases of the three boys were disposed of in Juvenile Court Tuesday by Judge Robert L. Brubaker.

They admitted they took Wilson's car from his home Sunday, Sept. 30, and drove to the southcentral Kentucky town where they were picked up by the sheriff and held until Sheriff Hays and Deputy Charles Hays came for them.

Howard Birchfield, 23 Elm St., who pleaded guilty to theft of a power saw, die set and grinder, valued at $225 and was sentenced by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court Tuesday to one to seven years in the Ohio Reformatory, was taken on to Mansfield by Deputy Hays when he took the boy to the Diagnostic Center.

Another count in the indictment against Birchfield, for theft of hand tools and electric drill from Orville Moats, was nolle by the court at the request of the prosecutor.

Shirley Hickman Wins Place In Special Training Program

Shirley Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hickman, 719 Dayton Ave., is one of the 30 seniors and three graduate students at Miami University, Oxford, who have been recognized as outstanding teacher prospects and are now receiving special training opportunities under a new fellowship program at the university.

Miss Hickman, who was graduated at the top of her class at Washington C. H. High School in 1953, is majoring in English at Miami and expects to receive her degree in education next June after completing the course in 3½ years.

She plans to study for her master's degree and hopes to become a college teacher.

Miss Hickman spent last summer in New York in the office of the Manhattan Life Insurance Co. "to see what life is like in a big city." The previous summer she had spent in the Little Theater program at Wilmington College.

PART OF MIAMI'S move to help provide an increasing supply of good faculty to meet increasing enrollment, the graduate undergraduate fellowship program gives selected students an insight into teachers' preparation, responsibilities, opportunities, privileges and standards of living as well as the prestige and importance of the profession, Dr. C. W. Kreger, Miami provost, fostered the idea and is supervising it.

Each fellow is assigned to a faculty sponsor. He or she works closely with this professor, attending his classes, assisting in class planning, research and paper grading, even spending time in the sponsor's home, while also receiving guidance in special projects.

The graduate fellow receives $1,400 salary plus remission of registration fee; he is expected to give 15 hours service a week in addition to his own graduate study.

County Schools Plan Achievement Testing

Fayette County school principals are making plans for a countywide achievement testing program in second grad classrooms as well as an optional program in upper grades where teachers wish it.

The principals, after a meeting this week, pointed out that the second grade tests are designed chiefly to discover pupils' strengths and weaknesses in reading, so that teachers can better adapt their instruction methods to student needs.

Reading being a basic tool in the educational process, the program seeks to give every lower-grade student a proper opportunity to learn to read before he progresses further in school.

THE PRINCIPALS asked County Superintendent W. J. Hilly to name a committee to plan a series of teacher workshops which not only will consider achievement test results but also cover various phases of instruction, and school activities.

Dr. G. W. Yaple, dean of Wilmington College and head of the Department of Teacher Training there, will confer with teachers on the interpretation of test results and will assist in setting up procedures for corrective teaching.

Dr. Yaple, employed by the county board as a part-time supervisor of instruction, has been carrying on individual testing program in the school system as a part of his assignment.
